4 INSIGHTS & ANALYSIS

MONTH-OVER-MONTH SCALE

3.77× orders

Orders increased from 168 in June to 633 in July. Sales grew even faster, from $13,860.85 to $55,295.16, while average order value rose from $82.50 to $87.35 (+5.9%). This indicates both greater reach and slightly stronger basket value.

CORE PRODUCT-MARKET FIT

$24.9K

Standard Length products generated $24,859.64, followed by Youth Underwear at $10,641.48. Familiar core fits and practical multi-pack value appear to have resonated better than highly specialized cuts.

Why July performed so well: the data supports a combined effect rather than one single cause—substantially broader creator/editorial distribution, mobile-friendly traffic, strong multi-pack merchandise, and high multi-item basket behavior.

MULTI-ITEM BASKETS

91.0%

91.0% of July orders contained at least two line items, and 64.1% contained three or more. The average basket held 3.9 items, suggesting bundle-oriented product selection was a major sales-value driver.

6 CREATOR CONTRIBUTION ANALYSIS

@briannaachantal

153 allocated orders

Content role: Story on 7/1 plus a persistent feed Post on 7/9 created both immediate and sustained exposure. Her fashion and lifestyle positioning is relevant to PSD's style-led product range.

@annamariatch

57 allocated orders

Content role: a Story placement provided large awareness potential through an approximately 200K-follower audience.

@withmao__

31 allocated orders

Content role: Story exposure created a short, concentrated purchase window.

travalbogs.com

144 allocated orders

Content role: the article directly connects road-trip pain points—heat, sweat and chafing—to PSD's breathable mesh, moisture-wicking construction and secure fit.

Why it may have converted: the pain point → product technology → CTA structure is highly persuasive and closely matches the strong performance of practical multi-packs.

wavydestinations.com

205 allocated orders

Content role: PSD is positioned as a breathable, supportive and moisture-wicking travel essential for long drives and outdoor activity.

Why it may have converted: the product is presented as a practical packing solution, reinforcing the same comfort and value cues seen in July's best-selling multi-packs.

everythingmountains.com

43 allocated orders

Content role: PSD appears directly in the article headline and early body copy, with clear benefits around cooling, flexibility, support and long-travel comfort.

Why it may have converted: strong brand visibility, high-intent travel context and a prominent product link shortened the path from problem recognition to purchase.
